IZ THE WIZ : BACK IN THE DAYS...

When I sit and think of the origins of this art from and consider how esotericly it is interpreted, I am simply amazed at how far this "art form" has come. From the simplistic mentality of "getting up" to the awesomeness and artistry of "graff" today, the art form has truly evolved to it`s rightfull reconition.
But what really is the complacency behind this article is the most recent adventure "II enjoyed with" SACH TMB" It truly had brought our minds and emotions back to the seventies. I think a fourty-five car freight train filled in, is an accomplisment in 1994 in New York City. Yeah, I know anyone can do a throw up...... but that many ?
Now let´s go back to 1971 or 1972. If someone had two pieces on a train, you did three or four, then he would do five or six pieces on a ten car train and so on. The one who had the "most" an a line was in fact "the king" of that line.
Being a "rebel", an "outlaw" was the early emotions writing on trains. "TRUE 1" on the outsides, "TRUE 2" insides, "FLINT 101", "MINGO 1", I could go on forever. Back in the "acient school" you gained the most respect from taking the most chances. Having more ! Not the biggest, not the beautifullest but more ! We all know who made that quote !
Insides, outsides, inbetween cars, top to bottoms, whole cars, how can anyone specialize in one part of this art form ? For me, back in the days, ok, way, way back in the days, I had to do it all ! I know I´m not the greatest "artist".
I´ll always be the greatest bomber !

SHOUTOUTS : TM Brother & Sisters ! BMT lines & the lords of Bklyn, Mickey, and all the 112 PK Boys.
